MOCK WEDDING ENJOYED

Compliments Mrs. Leola Brown on the approach of her wedding anniversary which falls on Friday, members of the Maccabee lodge entertained with a unique mock wedding after a regular initiation session in Eagle-Woodman hall yesterday. Mrs. Brown as the "bride" was attired in a gown of white, a filmy veil, caught up by orange blossoms, forming a deep train, and she carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Mrs. Kim Morton acted as groom and Mrs. J. M. Payne as minister, charged the couple with the tremendous obligations. Mrs. C. H. Conroy, also gowned in white, was chosen as the bride's attendant and Joanne Payne made a dainty flower girl. Mrs. Harry McFarland played the wedding music.

Adjourning to the banquet room, a fascinating cake, the gift of Mrs. Mary Melice, was cut by the "newlyweds" and served with light refreshments. The bride tossed her bouquet to the crowd and it was caught by Mrs. Alice Krehbiel.

A feature of the affair was the gift to Mrs. Brown of a cut glass mayonnaise bowl as an anniversary remembrance and also the presentation, made by her, of a plate to Mrs. Laura Morgan, the latter gift being an expression of the lodge's regret over the intended departure of Mrs. Morgan for Dakota, where she is to make her future home.

The sleeves are made to take on the new raglan effect merely by outlining the armhole, as shown in the sketch, with the finest of green-gold buttons. MAJOR GILBERT, ASTORIA, MENTIONED AS SENATOR

PORTLAND, March 17.—Major William S. Gilbert of Astoria, chaplain of the old Second Oregon in the Philippines and of the Third Oregon in France, is being talked of as a potential candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator. That the thought has found some little lodgment in the mind of the fighting parson is evidenced by the fact that when he was asked whether he intended to enter the contest he answered by saying that "he had nothing to say for publication," a phrase which more often means "yes" than "no" in political circles.

Word comes from Astoria that "friends of the major are urging him to become a candidate" and it is further stated by those friends, or some of them, that if Major Gilbert comes to the conclusion "that his services are needed by the people and that he would be the logical republican candidate at this time," he will declare his candidacy and go out actively over the state in search of the votes necessary to give him the nomination.

Up to the present time, R. N. Stanfield is the only open and avowed candidate for the senatorial nomination on the republican ticket. For a time there were rumors that Frederick W. Mulkey would probably be a candidate in the primaries, but that rumor has been denied by Senator Mulkey. No other candidate has been mentioned with and degree of definiteness except Major Gilbert.

NORTH DAKOTA IS ANYBODY'S PLUM

BISMARCK, N. D., March 17.—So far as the next president of the United States is concerned North Dakota is considered anybody's plum by political observers here today, state primary election day.

While the National Nonpartisan League is confident of its strength in the state, opponents of the league are making their most concerted battle against it since 1916 when the league took control of the state government. Candidates of both major parties were in a quandary as to their method of attack in North Dakota—since the Nonpartisan League grew out of a big republican majority in the Flickertail state.

Senator Hiram Johnson was the first presidential aspirant to overcome the timidity of candidates in the North Dakota campaign and his petition was filed just before a convention of republicans opposed to the league here adopted resolutions advising candidates already in the field to steer of didation. William Lemke, ranking next to A. C. Townley in administration of the which included many democrats opposed to the Nonpartisan League, promptly called well as republicans—declared "the is another republican convention declaring sue in North Dakota too clouded" for the previous convention did not reprehendious campaigns on the part of can sent republicanism in the state.
